TOPIC: Help Me, Help You – The tools mediators need to settle your case.

While the Plaintiff shouts “show me the money” your mediator should be saying, “help me help you.” From pre-suit mediation through post-trial mediation, two mediators share their fresh perspective on tools, techniques and approaches that have generally led to settlements acceptable to both sides. Just as is the case with most areas of the law, the parties who put the most effort toward thoughtful preparation prior to the mediation usually get their cases settled.
